

JULIUS MEINL TEA

Tea experts since 1862

Since its foundation, in 1862, Julius Meinl has continued to take pride in its premium tea offers. Cherishing this legacy, the fifth generation of the Meinl family, who is still actively involved in the tea development, have maintained Meinl's partnerships with famous tea plantations all over the world, preserved its craftman-ship spirit and carried on with its continuous pursuit of top quality.

Nurtured from the richness of its heritage, Julius Meinl Tea continues to innovate with new audacious blends and flavours, creating unique moments of indulgence with every cup served.

On a mission: Premium tea. But eco-friendly, please!

“Together we strive to make the world a better place.”

Sustainability is more than just a word for us. We live it and we are convinced it is the only way forward to the future. Julius Meinl recognizes the right of future generation's to meet their own needs and therefore strives to balance economic, environmental, and social criteria in its decisions and operations in order to achieve sustainable impacts.

In the tea category Julius Meinl is proud to take the next relevant steps on the way: The choice of certified organic teas and teas with additional Rainforest Alliance certification will be substantially increased. At the same time all packaging materials have been reevaluated and new solutions developed to assure an ecofriendly, recyclable set-up for a better future.

The target is clear: Excellent tea solutions for HORECA. Fully sustainable.

Certified organic quality

Certified organic – or in short: Bio – quality is a very important standard on the tea market. The concept is a very popular one and recognized by consumers all around the globe. Its root is to follow the natural lifecycle and use the scarce natural resources in a responsible and sustainable way. The protection of the environment and biodiversity is a central focus of organic cultivation.

A core point is the ban of pesticides and herbicides which assures a “clean”, health secure tea quality.

Another advantage of certified organic quality is that it is available throughout the whole field of tea products – be it black or green teas or all kinds of herbs and fruits.

Julius Meinl is proudly offering certified organic teas already for much more than a decade.

Rainforest Alliance

In 2018 the UTZ organization and Rainforest Alliance joined their forces and merged to have a bigger impact on the market. While the UTZ logo will disappear in the upcoming years the new Rainforest Alliance logo is to be found on more and more products.

While the original focus of the Rainforest Alliance initiative was the preservation of nature around plantations and fields (this is also where the frog in the logo comes from) the activities are nowadays spread over 4 key areas: climate, livelihood (assure the cultivation of ingredients also in the future), human rights and preservation of forests.

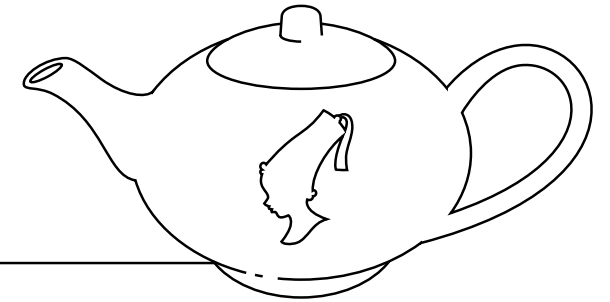

These targets go hand in hand with the sustainability definition of Julius Meinl – that is why we will in the future extend the cooperation and convert more tea articles to Rainforest Alliance certified quality.
